Skylux is not liable for incorrect information

Skylux has taken great care in creating this website but does not guarantee that all the information on it is correct. Users must be aware that the information on the website may change without them receiving prior notice.

As a result, Skylux cannot be held liable for the content of the website or for the use made of this information. If Skylux is notified of errors or incomplete data it shall immediately make the necessary corrections or supplement the data in question.

If links are established with other websites, for example with the aid of search engines, Skylux shall not be liable for the content and existence of these other sites. Skylux makes every attempt to keep the website continuously available, but it cannot be held liable for damage that may arise as a result of restrictions on the use of the website or the unavailability of the website.

Copyright

The entire content of the website (photos, text, animation, etc.) is protected by copyright. Nothing from this website may be copied, altered or disseminated without the prior written consent of Skylux.

Privacy

The protection of your privacy and personal data is extremely important to Skylux. As a result, we pay due attention to this aspect in our business operations.

In the following statement we provide information about the data collected by Skylux when you visit our website and the purposes for which Skylux uses that data:

Customer data

When you log in on this site or request information, we record the information you provide such as name, company name, email address, etc. We use this information to offer you services or to send you the requested documentation. With your consent, we use this information to send you information about Skylux which you might find interesting by post or email.

Obviously, you can withdraw your consent at any time by simply sending an email to info@skylux.be indicating that you no longer wish to receive information from us.

In addition, you can review your information at any time and have it amended as necessary. In this case as well please send an email to info@skylux.be

Passing on personal data

At no time shall Skylux pass your details on to third parties or allow third parties access to your information. Your information is only used by Skylux, or third parties authorised by us, for promotional or service-related purposes. It goes without saying that these third parties may only use the information in connection with that specific assignment and that they may not use the information for their own purposes or pass it on to others.

Technical data

When you visit our website our web server records standard technical connection data which is then used anonymously as a basis for compiling statistics on visitor behaviour. The objective here is to constantly improve the user-friendliness of our website.

More questions?

If you have more questions or would like more information about the data we collect, please contact us via info@skylux.be

We will deal with your enquiries as quickly as possible.
